RECREATIONS

THREE VAUDEVILLE

ARTISTS AT NOVELTY

The Novelty is forging into the foreground as one of the amusement houses that can and does give good live vaudeville acts. Three women of varied stage experience will furnish joyous delight for the audience there this week. The main attraction of course, as last week, will be Miss Wall in her now famous Indian muscle dance. This dance is one of the most remarkable ever witnessed in Honolulu. Here in Hawaii famed for its dancers of the hula, the Indian muscle dance, a near cousin of the hula, is attracting more attention than any other act. The other two vaudeville artists at the Novelty for the week are Miss Ethel Leslie and Miss Delardi. They are singers and are certain to entertain. There will be many good pictures as well.

PARK THEATER.

The Twelfth Jurymen, one of those film stories of everyday life, will be the feature film at the Park tonight. In addition there will be the usual other good pictures, including some very good comedies. Walker and Sturm will add their startling ladder act and their work with the six rackets. As they leave on the Alameda, there are but three nights left to see these clever jugglers. The Melnotte sisters will have a new, catchy song and the orchestra will render the usual good musical program.

BAND CONCERT.

The following program will be rendered by the Hawaiian band this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Emma Square:
Overture—Jolly Students Suppe
Waltz—Laura Millocke
Intermezzo—Cavalleria Rusticana Mascagni
Selection—La Boheme Puccini
Vocal—Two duets ar. by Berger
Selection—Harry Lauder's Songs Hume
Noxette—Snow Queen Sauer
Finale—Alameda Lincoln
The Star Spangled Banner.

The Russians, now on Quarantine Island were excited to a high degree last Saturday over a wife-beating case in their midst. There were demonstrations of rough treatment for the brute who beat the woman and they would have probably been put into effect had the man not been placed under protection.
